RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Case Western University Hospital Cleveland, OH

Epidemiologist, Ohio Army National Guard Mental Health Initiative (OHARNG MHI), PIs Sandro Galea, Joseph R. Calabrese, Marijo Tamburrino
August 2013-present

Prepare data and perform statistical analyses on OHARNG MHI clinical sub-sample (N=671). Clinical interviews were conducted annually for 4 years screening for diagnoses, including, but not limited to PTSD, depression, and substance use disorders. Analyze and prepare results for publications. Assist junior research to publish through collaboration and assistance through the publication process.

United States Army, Behavioral and Social Health Outcomes Program (BSHOP), Epidemiology and Disease Surveillance Portfolio (EDS), United States Army Institute of Public Health (USAPHC), Aberdeen Proving Grounds, MD

Field Epidemiology Lead

September 2012-July 2013

Assist in the coordination, planning, and execution of research investigations, field studies, and program evaluations relate to psychiatric epidemiology. Develop surveys. Provide training and oversee data collection. Analyze data, interpret, and disseminate rates, trends, and determinants of psychiatric health and fitness of the Army. Oversee a staff of one PhD epidemiologist; two masters level epidemiologists, and a data technician.

United States Army, Behavioral and Social Health Outcomes Program (BSHOP), Epidemiology and Disease Surveillance Portfolio (EDS), United States Army Institute of Public Health (USAPHC)

Aberdeen Proving Grounds, MD

Epidemiologist/Analyst

November 2010-September 2012

Contribute to the design and execution of epidemiological surveillance, analytical projects, and behavioral and social health investigations such as suicide, domestic violence, and child abuse and homicide rates. Recommending preventative measures and conduct continuous surveillance of medical information databases. Manage and analyze large datasets (N=182,000) for a retrospective case-control study. Write scientific reports and manuscripts.

Veterans Administration

San Diego, CA

Research Manager—GS 9 Step 2, Marine Resilience Study, PIs Dewleen Baker, William Nash, Brett Litz

June 2009-October 2010

Managed the implementation of three components of a large integrated prospective study of active-duty Marines pre- and post- deployment. Oversaw off-site data collection on two military installations for extended time periods. Performed statistical analysis on a variety of data types, including: longitudinal, retrospective, and cross-sectional studies, with an emphasis on small sample sizes and non-parametric data. Examined studies with small sample applying bootstrapping methods combined with spline and mixed-method modeling. Handled multiple datasets to ensure consistency and accuracy. Wrote scientific manuscripts.

Veterans Administration

San Diego, CA

Research Associate-GS 9, Marine Resilience Study, PIs Dewleen Baker, William Nash, Brett Litz

October 2008-June 2009

Cleaned, merged and organized various datasets to ensure consistency and accuracy. Conducted bivariate and multivariate statistical tests on multiple datasets in SAS, including multiple regression and mixed modeling. Performed primary analysis on time-series drug trials and clinical research studies. Trained three new research assistants.
